Join us for a Community Conversation featuring Emmy award-winning filmmaker, Lee Hirsch, and screening of the film, BULLY.

BULLY is the first feature documentary film to explore “a year in the life” of bullying in the United States. From the first day of school through the last, the film intimately follows the lives of a few of the many courageous kids and families bullying affects each day. The film captures the distress of bullying victims, the frustration of their parents, and in some cases, the overwhelming grief when bullying ends a life.

BULLY provides a compelling and tragic portrait of the consequences of bullying in our society. As an educational partner for the film, Facing History and Ourselves has created an accompanying guide and companion website. Each helps to raise important questions about the impact of upstander behavior and the responsibilities of all members of the school community in creating a safe and respectful learning environment. Facing History has provided workshops on the film, both in-person and online, to thousands of educators across the United States. To learn more or to download the guide, visit facinghistory.org/safeschools.

Facing History and Ourselves and The Allstate Foundation present a series of community-wide dialogues across the U.S. Prominent scholars, authors, filmmakers, and policy leaders will speak and participate in discussions about civic engagement, individual and collective responsibility, and tolerance.

FACING HISTORY AND OURSELVES

Facing History and Ourselves is an international educational and professional development organization whose mission is to engage students of diverse backgrounds in an examination of racism, prejudice, and antisemitism in order to promote the development of a more humane and informed citizenry. By studying the historical development and lessons of the Holocaust and other examples of genocide, students make the essential connection between history and the moral choices they confront in their own lives.

Allstate
Foundation

The Allstate Foundation, established in 1952, is an independent charitable organization made possible by The Allstate Corporation. The Allstate Foundation sponsors community initiatives to promote “tolerance, inclusion, and diversity,” “safe and vital communities,” and “economic empowerment.” Teen driving and empowering victims of domestic violence have been priorities for the foundation since 2005.
